After a two-year study by the American Psychological Association task force on the sexualization of girls, we have evidence to support a mom's concerns. The task force's report states that music lyrics, beauty products and clothing now being marketed to younger and younger girls are pressuring them to grow up too fast. While creating no immediate effect - they're linked to eating disorders, low self-esteem, and depression when these girls become teenagers.

It's my desire to equip the Church and moms to coach their daughters into lives of true beauty, biblical modesty, and vibrant purity. I promise you that moms will tell you it was the most fun they've ever had digging into God's word with their daughters.
